FACTS

For six consecutive years we have been heating homes to the entire satisfaction of the owners with marvelous coal economy.

If we can do that for others, why cannot it be done for you? Low installation cost, no maintenance cost and guaranteed heating results with our installations is a fact.

We can show you a ten room frame house, out in the country, exposed on all sides, that has been heated with our radiators, during the past winter, using but four tons of coal. We would be delighted to take you out to the house at any time. What we want, is to give you an estimate on the heating of your house. No charge for estimate and you will not be obligated to buy. You will have a better heating system than either hot water or steam and not live in terror of water leaks, or freeze ups.

Our literature will be sent you for the asking and demonstration of these few facts given at any time.

ARCHITECTS' NOTES.

Oliver Randolph Parry, architect, 1723 Chestnut street, has completed plans and specifications for the new United Towns National Bank, to be erected in Berlin, N. J. The building will be of brick and concrete, designed in the Colonial period, and will be 32 ft. x 42 ft. in size, one-story and balcony in height, and containing public banking space, ladies' room, president's room, board room, working room, toilet room and vaults. F. P. Reynolds & Co., Philadelphia; Peter Peterson, of Williamstown, N. J., and one or two local men are estimating upon the work, the bids due Saturday, May 7th.

Benjamin R. Stevens, Bulletin Building, is completing plans for the new Y. M. C. A. building, to be erected in Bryn Mawr, Pa., to cost about $25,000.

Anderson & Haupt, Drexel Building, are engaged on plans for a three-story store building, to be built at 820 South street, for Hopkins & Milgram.

Stuckert & Sloan, 1420 Chestnut street, have finished plans for improvements to the building at 134-36 Market street, for the Horn & Hardart Baking Company.

Cope & Stewardson, 320 Walnut street, have plans on boards for a three-story addition to the veterinary building of the University of Pennsylvania, to cost about $75,000.

Sauer & Hahn, 1112 Chestnut street, have entered the competition for the preparation of the plans for the proposed Masonic Home buildings, to be erected in Elizabethtown, Pa.

A. B. & C. F. Millett, 5209 N. Broad street, have plans under way for twenty two-story dwellings, 16 x 54 feet, to be built at Eleventh and Rockland streets, to cost about $90,000.

Seymour Davis and Paul A. Davis, 3d, 1600 Chestnut street, are planning a three-story brick post office and apartment house, 50 x 86 feet, to be built in Ocean City, N. J., for J. M. Chester.

Charles Barton Keen, Bailey Building, has plans on boards for a three-story laboratory, to be built in Glenolden, Delaware county, Pa., at a cost of about $50,000, for the H. K. Mulford Company.

Roland W. Boyle, 1626 Chestnut street, has plans in the course of preparation for a four-story stone novitiate building, 40 x 70 feet, with a wing, 30 x 80 feet, to be erected at Ferndale, Conn., by the Fathers of the Holy Ghost.

Yocum & Powers Co., 26 South Fifteenth street, have sold a tract of ground at the northwest corner of Sixty-seventh street and Woodland avenue to Edelstein & Feldman, who will erect seven two-story dwellings on the site.

Herbert C. Wise, 34 S Sixteenth street, has plans in the course of preparation for a two and a half-story stone and timber residence, 26 x 78 feet, with a wing, 19 x 40 feet, to be erected at Melrose Park, for Samuel E. Fairchild, to cost about $20,000.

Louis S. Ginsburg, 1201 Chestnut street, has sold a tract of ground, measuring 385.65 x 150 feet, on the south side of Wagner avenue, between Thirteenth street and York road, to Clyde A. Schuler, who will erect an operation of three-story dwellings on the site.

Henry L. Reinhold, northeast corner Tenth and Sansom streets, has finished plans for a two-story apartment, to be built in Ardmore, Pa., for Henry Bicking. The same architect has been commissioned to design a new school building, to be erected in Phoenixville, Pa.

BUILDERS ESTIMATING.

Frank E. Wallace, 1210 Sansom street, is estimating on cottage No. 4, for the Seybert Institute, in Meadowbrook, Pa., and on alterations to the farmhouse into cottage No. 5. Plans by Brockit & Hastings, architects. A supplementary contract has been awarded by Oliver Randolph Parry, architect, 1723 Chestnut street, to Thomas C. Trafford, for additional work in connection with extensive interior alterations to the new club house and stable of the Old York Road Country Club, at Jenkintown, Pa. Mr. Parry has also awarded the steam heating of the club house to Edward Tyson, of Wyncote, Pa.

Daniel W. Sperry, 1305 Arch street, is estimating on the residence to be erected in Jenkintown, for Albert J. Sanders.

F. L. Hoover & Sons, 24 S. Seventh street, are estimating on a two and a half-story residence, 23 x 30 feet, to be built in Roxborough, for Miss Estelle Weber.

R. C. Ballinger & Co., 218 North Thirteenth street, are estimating on a two-story and basement stone meeting house, 53 x 44 feet, to be built for the Coatesville Friends' Meeting.

CHANGE OF MANAGEMENT.

The publisher and owner of this paper for nearly twenty-five years announces, with regret, that his failing eyesight compels him to commit its further publication and management to younger hands. On retiring from its management, he wishes to convey to his many friends and patrons his heartfelt gratitude for their uniform kindness and help during all these many years. Gratifying to him is the thought that, after all his years of care and attention to the interests of its patrons, he believes that the new proprietors, Messrs. Aubrey McConnell, W. S. Harvey and Louis S. DeLone, will keep it at the high standard of efficiency which he has established for it. He therefore bespeaks for them the same kind consideration you have always shown him.

FACTS

For six consecutive years we have been heating homes to the entire satisfaction of the owners with marvelous coal economy.

If we can do that for others, why cannot it be done for you? Low installation cost, no maintenance cost and guaranteed heating results with our installations is a fact.

We can show you a ten room frame house, out in the country, exposed on all sides, that has been heated with our radiators, during the past winter, using but four tons of coal. We would be delighted to take you out to the house at any time. What we want, is to give you an estimate on the heating of your house. No charge for estimate and you will not be obligated to buy. You will have a better heating system than either hot water or steam and not live in terror of water leaks, or freeze ups.

Our literature will be sent you for the asking and demonstration of these few facts given at any time.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, MAY 18, 1910.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE ASSOCIATION of the AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.

At the Second Annual Meeting of the Pennsylvania State Association of Architects just held at Pittsburg, Pa., the opening remarks of the president dwelt upon the encouraging interest taken in the Association, by the architects of the State at large, indicating that there was an opportunity for the Association to become a vital factor in the interests of the profession, that these annual meetings of the delegates representing the various chapters of the State are bound to bring the chapters in closer relation to one another. He stated that in no other way than by personal contact could the Association expect to accomplish any results or make any effective progress. Apropos of his remarks, commanding and encouraging letters were read by Mr. Boyd from a number of the officers of the American Institute. With a view of furnishing additional information to architects of the State who are not already members of the Institute a circular letter was composed and is to be distributed in a few days. Committees on Revision of Building Laws, approved, at the meeting in December last, were appointed, composed of seven men from the three chapters. The most important business of the session was the proposed revision of the building laws. Mr. MacClure, of Pittsburg, explained in brief the very satisfactory progress which was being made in Pittsburg and vicinity. It was explained that after a considerable amount of hard work by the Pittsburg Chapter and through the efforts principally of Mr. Stotz, its president, and with the approval of the A. I. A., a meeting of delegates was called by him appointed from twelve of the most important organizations of the city. The organizations represented were: Chamber of Commerce, Pittsburg Board of Trade, Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania, Western Builders' Association, of Allegheny county, Builders' Exchange League, Master Plumbers' Association, Electrical Contractors' Association, Bar Association, Civic Commission, Pittsburg Chapter A. I. A., Civic Club of Allegheny county, Board of Fire Underwriters. The By-Laws governing the Association were presented, each item being considered separately and finally adopted. The Nominating Committee reported in favor of the re-election of the present officers for the ensuing year, and they were elected unanimously. Namely: D. Knickerbacker Boyd, Philadelphia, president; Edward Stotz, Pittsburg, vice-president; W. L. Baily, Philadelphia, secretary and treasurer. The meeting adjourned with expressions of satisfaction as to the results of the year's work.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JUNE 8, 1910.

CLARENCE E. WUNDER ENTERS INTO PARTNERSHIP WITH KURT W. PEUCKERT.

Kurt W. Peuckert, architect, 310 Chestnut street, has taken his nephew, Clarence E. Wunder, into partnership with him. Mr. Wunder possesses unusual ability and is well enabled to execute work with accuracy. All work entrusted to the new firm will receive undivided attention and will be carried out with the same precision that have made the business of the past so favorably known amongst the brewers and manufacturers since Mr. Peuckert's establishment in business, in 1894, but on broader lines. The new firm will be known as Peuckert & Wunder.

ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE, - $5.00
Less than One Year, 15 Cents per Copy

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JUNE 15, 1910.

The numerous demands for Compo-Board was the cause of Howard Ketcham, dealer in hardwoods and building lumber, Third and Girard avenue, investigating the merits of that composition material, after which, he accepted the selling agency for the same. Compo-Board is a composition material made of wooden slats with a thickness of extra heavy moisture proof-paper on either side, all cemented together in intense heat under heavy pressure. It has proven very successful for more than ten years, notably in the West and Northwest, and over 150,000 feet is sold in New York City every month. Compo-Board is manufactured all four feet wide; 8, 9, 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18 feet long; 1/4-inch in thickness, and can be cut to any desired size with any ordinary saw, the same as lumber.

Announcement is made that a combination of German and American capital has been formed under the name of The Victor-Balata and Textile Belting Co. and will immediately commence the erection of an immense manufacturing plant at Easton, Pa., at a cost of a half-million dollars. The factory site contains nine acres of land and work will be started at once on the construction of the main factory building, 150 x 100 feet, and an impregnation building, 75 x 60 feet. Both buildings will be constructed of concrete and steel and will be absolutely fireproof. Another interesting feature of the new plant is that a complete miniature village will be erected on the site to house the workmen. All the buildings will be constructed of concrete. A large weaving plant for the weaving of cotton duck will be an added feature as soon as the machinery has been built.

The officers of the new company are Chas. E. Aaron, of New York, president; Edwin Vollrath, of Blankenburgh, Germany, secretary, and John R. Stein, New York, treasurer.

urer. Both Mr. Aaron and Mr. Stein are president and treasurer, respectively, of the New York Leather Belting Co., of New York City.

The Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects closed its present season of activity on June 25th, with its annual outing, the scene of which was Princeton, N. J.

The Chapter chartered a special car and invited the members of the T. Square Club to participate in the outing, which included luncheon at the Princeton Inn, and afterwards an inspection of the town and of the improvements under way at Princeton College.

At the last regular meeting much hope was held out for the consummation of a plan which the Chapter has been working upon through a special committee to secure Chapter quarters. This plan contemplates the erection upon a prominent site of a building which would house a large number of architects who might run the whole building on a co-operative basis with all the advantages which would naturally accrue to the profession as well as the occupants from such an arrangement.

Another and a most important matter brought before the meeting was the report of the Committee on the Preservation of Historic Monuments—by which it became known that the City Authorities had accepted the proffered services of the committee in connection with the restoration of old Congress Hall. This assures to the city, without cost other than the actual expenses of the surveys and the preparation of drawings, a comprehensive and authoritative restoration as the committee have for years been making a thorough study of the present and past conditions, particularly the latter. Much of the credit for the successful outcome of the project which should have been consummated years ago, belongs to the present Mayor of Philadelphia, the Hon. John E. Reyburn, who caused the appropriation to be made for this purpose. The amount to be expended carries with it a modern lighting system for the historic Independence Hall and Independence Square which has also been entrusted to the Chapter's energetic committee.

The Committee on Public Information reported that the Code of Competitions recently issued by the Institute had been distributed to all non-institute members of the profession in the Philadelphia Chapter territory.

A resolution of regret and condolence was adopted on the death of W. Bledynn Powell, the City Architect of Philadelphia, and long time a member of the institute.

Some of the members who had appeared at the Harrisburg Capitol trial to uphold the significance of the architect's certificate and the honor of the profession reported in detail regarding same, and all regretted the necessity of the occasion which required their presence for such a purpose.

A discussion took place on proposed changes to the building laws and the president of the State Association, who was present, stated that the whole subject was being taken up for the State, by a committee of the association, on which committee were members of the Philadelphia Chapter.

We Learned Our Trade in Italy

The Birthplace of Mosaic Art

There are still standing in that country hundreds of examples of this work, done by Italian workmen thousands of years ago. Its enchanting beauty has justly placed it among the classics. We call it the last-forever kind.

Our workmen were trained in this kind of work.

Tile work is nothing more nor less than mosaic art in larger pieces.

THE Twentieth Century SASH PULLEY

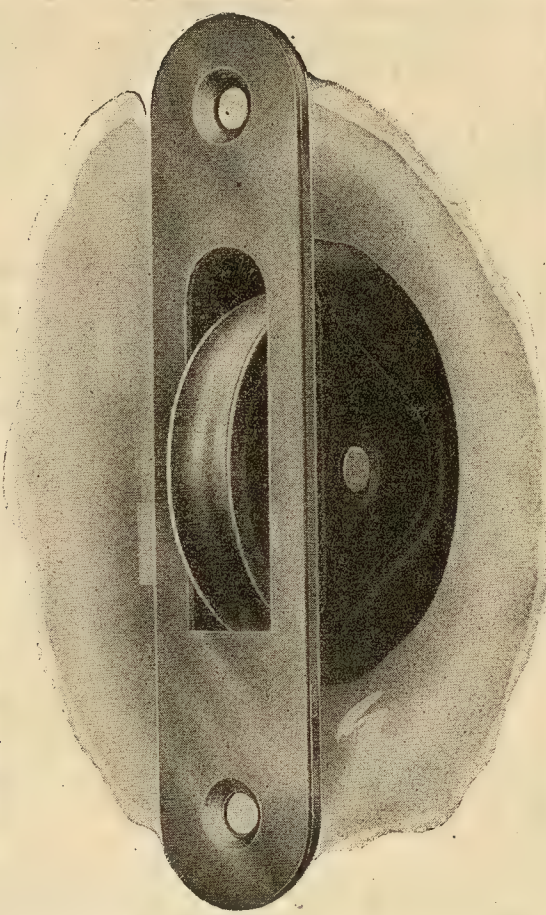

The above heading does not overstate, for we are often assured by leading concerns, that our sash pulleys represent the most varied and best thought out line of its kind.

The only sash pulleys made by the electrical welding process, the pressed metal material used making a light but unbreakable pulley.

All pulleys rust protected, and all have the combination groove suited for chain or sashcord. Plain Axle, Roller or Ball Bearings.

WANTS.

Haddon Heights, N. J. Sealed proposals will be received by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Haddon Heights, N. J., at the Council Chamber of said Borough, at 8 P. M., Tuesday, July 10, 1910. Said proposals to cover the furnishing of materials and the performance of all work required for the construction of certain sanitary sewers and sewage disposal works, being a part of a general sewage system shown by plans and specifications filed with the Borough Clerk. Copies of the specifications and plans may be seen also at the office of the engineers, City Wastes Disposal Company, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York. Approximately, the proposed work consists of: About 36,000 feet of vitrified pipe sewers, 8-inch to 12-inch, laid complete, with manholes and flushtanks. A small indeterminate amount of agricultural drain-tile laid in sewer trench. Sewage disposal works consisting of masonry, sewage tanks, masonry, coke-filled filters, sand filters with earth embankments, piping, valves, siphons, etc. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for two thousand dollars ($2,000) as a guarantee that the bidder, if his bid be accepted, will enter into contract and execute the required bond. Each bid must be made on blank forms obtained from the Borough Clerk or from the engineers. The Borough reserves the right to reject any or all bids. All bids must be enclosed in sealed envelopes, marked "Proposals for the Construction of Sewers and Sewage Disposal Works," and each must be enclosed in a second envelope addressed to Frederick F. Burkart, Borough Clerk of Haddon Heights, N. J., City Wastes Disposal Company, Engineers, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York.

The Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects held its annual outing on Saturday, June 25th, the scene this year being Princeton, N. J., which was selected not only because of its associations, but by reason of the important additions which have been and are being made to the architectural progress of the country in this quaint college town. A large number of chapter members and their guests of the T-Square Club and the Southern Pennsylvania Chapter boarded a special car on the 10.28 train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, from Broad Street Station, while others journeyed to Princeton in automobiles.

The main dining room of the Princeton Inn was reserved for the luncheon of the Chapter and afterwards the entire party made a tour of Princeton University, the authorities of that institution having extended the courtesies of the place to the Chapter as its guests. The inspection began at the new dormitories now being erected from funds largely contributed by Mrs. Russell Sage. This building, or group of buildings, is now about one-third completed, though the dominating feature of which, the Memorial Tower, specially provided by Mrs. Sage, has but just been commenced. Mr. Frank Miles Day, the architect of this building, explained to his hearers the architectural and practical features of the building, and the party then proceeded, under the direction of officials and students of the University, to inspect the remaining buildings both old and new. Printed plans of the college and grounds were distributed as souvenirs of the occasion. Parties also made tours of the old town and of the club house section on Prospect avenue. The arrangements for the day were ably conducted by the Committee on Entertainment and Programme, of which Mr. Edward A. Crane was the chairman. Among those in the party were: Wm. D. Hewitt, president of the Chapter; John Hall Rankin, president of the Southern Pennsylvania Chapter, and Mrs. Rankin; D. Knickerbacker Boyd, president of the Pennsylvania State Association of Architects, and Mrs. Boyd; Chas. Z. Klauder, president of the T-Square Club and Mrs. Klauder; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zantinger; Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Medary; Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Crane; Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Ketterer; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miles Day; Mr. and Mrs. H. Kent Day; Miss Day and Miss Welsh; Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Riley; Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ziegler; Mrs. Plummer; Mr. and Mrs. Petry; Wm. L. Plack and Miss Plack; Messrs. C. L. Borie; Geo. I. Lovatt; F. H. Keisker; B. F. Willis; Reinhardt Dempwolf; Geo. F. Gemmil; Wm. B. Billmyer; A. P. IMPORTANT

When you build a house to sell, you want all improvements to assist in making a sale. When you build to rent, you want all modern advantages to retain your tenants. We have it. Install our water closets having a which prevents any escape of water and sewer gas. Cost no more. Saves its cost in repairs in two years for the entire combination.

The economy of the
Mills Water Tube

rests on the important fact that the tubes are filled with water and the hot flames envelop them. The small columns into which the water is divided aids the absorption of heat.

Thus maximum amount of heat.

Small coal consumption

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG. 3, 1910.

The rapidity with which reinforced concrete construction has forced its way into popular acceptance is an indication that this particular variety of building has, in the words of a rural publisher, "come to stay." The experimental stage having been successfully passed there is now virtually no limit to the uses for which this attractive, comparatively inexpensive, highly adaptable and exceedingly durable medium may be employed.

The problem of tensile stresses in this avenue of construction has been so completely mastered that the last valid objection to this style of building no longer exists. In the concrete construction of the present day the steel is so placed as to meet every demand upon reinforced concrete as a structural material. Properly constructed there is no class of building offering greater chances of permanence, beauty and adaptability. Whether the project in hand be a bungalow, a railroad bridge, or a great modern office building, the result is the same. Reinforced concrete has "come to stay." Its use is destined to grow with the expansion of popular knowledge concerning its admirable economic advantages.

Those pessimistic persons who are given to fancying that the automobile makers are getting all of the money in circulation may shake themselves free of this gloomy and dispiriting obsession. Six thousand and seventeen new buildings erected in Philadelphia during the six months of the present year cost approximately nineteen millions of dollars. Alterations and additions made during this term cost nearly two million more. Property transfers were recorded during the same period involving close to thirty-seven millions and real estate was sold at auction, covering the six months, aggregating about a million and a quarter. So that about sixty millions of dollars changed hands during the half year that did not find its way into the hands of the men who make and sell automobiles. There still remain, it will be observed, a few sane, long headed and thoughtful people who invest their savings in bricks and mortar. Speaking of the craze for automobiles a director connected with the largest automobile concern in Philadelphia told the writer the other day that his concern held mortgages amounting to nearly fifteen millions of dollars on Philadelphia real estate, given as security for the payment of obligations issuing out of the purchase of joy machines.

Paving experts all over the country are watching with a curious interest a new type of paving which Mr. J. Y. McClintock, county engineer of Monroe County, N. Y., is laying in the vicinity of Rochester. The material he is using is what is known in Germany and Austria as "kleinpflaster"—small cubes of stone—averaging about 3 inches set in a cushion of sand. The first use of this style of paving was made in Germany about twenty years ago on a country road near Stade. This road, despite the fact that it bears an unusually heavy traffic is still in an excellent condition. It is notable that abroad where this small cube paving is best known its use is limited to country roads or to residential streets in which the travel is not heavy. Few paving authorities would dare to predict anything encouraging of this "kleinpflaster" paving in a city street given over to heavy hauling. The cubes are so small, the bed in which they are set so receding and the joints so large that destruction would appear to be more or less inevitable. And yet Mr. McClintock's experiments may upset many of the accepted theories regarding paving that survive here as it is claimed the same class of paving did abroad. In any event the experiments are highly interesting. Wood block will have a fair test in our own Market street try-out. Why not kleinpflaster, or any other form of paving, elsewhere.

In competition with thirty-three prominent architectural firms. Architects Clarence C. Zatzinger, C. L. Borie and M. B. Medary, Jr., of this city, have been awarded the first prize of $800, as well as the commission for the furnishing of plans for the group of home buildings to be erected for the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, of Pennsylvania, at Elizabethtown, Pa.

Six other architects, among which were two prominent Philadelphia firms, received prizes of $300 each, as follows: Aymar Embury, N. Y. City; Horace Trumbauer, Philadelphia; Cass Gilbert, N. Y. City; Goodwin, Starrett & Van Vleck, N. Y., and John T. Windrim, Phila.

The buildings to be erected under the accepted plans, at a cost of $350,000, are as follows:

MAIN BUILDING, including business office, reception rooms, library, lounging room for men, sitting room for women, dining room and culinary department, sleeping and other apartments for the official staff and servants.

MECHANICAL PLANT. This will consist of a building in one or more parts equipped to provide heat and light for the entire group and power for the laundry and the ventilation systems of the main building and the school. The plant will also provide refrigerating machinery, repair shops for engineer, carpenter, electrician and blacksmith; incinerating oven, coal storage and ash pit. It will thus require a boiler house, fuel and ash space; engine and dynamo room, shop house, space for refrigerating and the storage of ice, and a laundry, which may be in two stories.

STABLE AND GARAGE, GATEKEEPERS' LODGE, WATER TOWER AND PUMPING STATION.

COTTAGES. Two stories in height; planned in two types; a dormitory type to accommodate four hundred persons, and a housekeeping type, including forty-five cottages, two stories each, having a living room, kitchen, pantry and bed and bath room, with a total area of 700 sq. feet.

HOSPITAL, with necessary equipment, isolation house and chapel.

SCHOOLHOUSES for boys and girls; two school buildings and six residences.

Fire service buildings in addition to foregoing.

MASTER METAL WORKERS SIXTH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Secretary of Convention Here Says Members Believe It Teaches Workman Duty Toward Employer

The National Association of the Master Metal Sheet Workers, which numbers more than 2,500 members, representing every section of the United States, has no quarrel with organized labor, according to Benjamin F. John, secretary of the sixth annual convention, at Lulu Temple.

"We are strongly in favor of organized labor," declared Mr. John. "We believe that it does much toward teaching the workman his duty to his employer and helps him to a saner view of the situation. As an association, we have never had any controversy with the unions, but we have always maintained our right to run open shops and employ men at our own discretion. Furthermore, we see no likelihood of any contention on this question, because we are ever willing to hear the complaints of our men."

A feature of the convention is the sheet metal exhibition in the Temple. It has great interest for the delegates in attendance, as it represents the latest developments in the trade which has an annual output in excess of $100,000,000 in value.

There were more than 150 delegates at the opening banquet in the basement of Lu Lu Temple, at which Benjamin F. John, secretary of the convention and of the Philadelphia Association, was presented with a Masonic watch charm, mounted with diamonds, by the local association, in appreciation of his work in organizing the present convention. Charles F. Geissler, president of the convention, acted as toastmaster, and speeches were made by a number of delegates.

The National Association of Master Sheet

Metal Workers was organized in this city on February 22, 1905, and was originally composed of twelve local associations. So rapidly has it grown that it now has about 100 associations with a membership of over 2,500. The officers of the national organization are:

President, Edwin L. Seabrook, Philadelphia; first vice-president, S. Spiro, Birmingham, Ala.; second vice-president, John Bogenberger, Milwaukee, Wis.; third vice-president, Frank P. Smith, Norfolk, Va.; fourth vice-president, Frank J. Hoersting, Dayton, O.; secretary, Otto Goebel, Syracuse, N. Y.; treasurer, W. A. Fingles, Baltimore, Md.

The officers of the local organization are: President, Charles F. Geissler; vice-president, E. W. Richards; treasurer, W. R. Taylor; secretary, B. F. John. The Ladies' Auxiliary Committee includes: President, Mrs. Edwin L. Seabrook; secretary, Miss Maude A. Geissler; treasurer, Mrs. R. F. John, and Miss Alice Taylor and Mrs. W. W. Diehl.

As a direct result of the superior quality and workmanship involved in the work performed by the Italian Marble Mosaic Company, 429-31 Spruce street, in Room 262, City Hall, under a contract awarded last December, the same company has recently been awarded the contract for the terrazzo flooring in Rooms 266 and 68, City Hall, now being refitted for the Library Bureau. The new work will be done under the personal supervision of Mr. Louis Pasquali and Mr. Geo. Holt, of the Italian Marble Mosaic Company.

For a long time, the United Gas Improvement Company has been maintaining at its various offices throughout the city, rooms for the display and sale of gas ranges, heaters, portable lamps, etc. Now, in addition, there is this beautiful store in the very heart of the shopping district, northeast corner of Eleventh and Market street, where gas appliances of every description are shown under the best possible conditions.

It is hard to say what is the most interesting feature about the establishment. No doubt the women-folks would say, the furnished rooms in the gallery, where gas for lighting, heating and cooking is demonstrated amidst the surroundings of a beautiful home. But they will also be delighted with the wonderful display, in the main salesroom, of gas ranges of every type—cabinet, elevated, double and single oven, of beautiful fixtures and portable lamps, of water heaters of every type, radiators, gas logs, laundry stoves and dryers—scores of appliances to make home comfortable and labor light.

On the other hand, the storekeeper will be interested in the magnificent lighting of the store and windows, both inside and outside. The brilliancy, steadiness and softness of the illumination make it a very attractive light, and the operation is easy—merely touching a button lights or extinguishes one or any number of lamps.

The manufacturer's interest will centre in the subway store, which may be entered direct from the Eleventh Street Subway Station. Here one finds gas applied to industrial needs, in gas engines, furnaces, and miscellaneous appliances for metal working, etc.

One display in the store that is worthy of more than passing mention is that of lighting fixtures. A moment's reflection will convince anyone that in the past there has been little variety and less art shown in this important branch of house furnishing. But this criticism cannot be brought against the present stock in the U. G. I. store. They have a wonderful assortment of fixtures of an entirely unusual class, that will be welcomed by all who are interested in artistic interior decoration.

Another notable point is that practically every light in the store lights itself. Turn the cock, or pull a chain on any bracket, and the lamp is lighted, thus removing the principal advantage that electricity may be said to have over gas. This convenient arrangement may be applied to every light in your home, if you desire.

The United Gas Improvement Company states that this store has been established solely for the convenience and interest of the gas consumers—present or prospective—of the entire city. It is their store, and they are to avail themselves of it in every way. Philadelphians should be proud of it, because it is undoubtedly the finest, most comprehensive, and most attractive exhibition of gas lighting and fuel appliances in the world.

MATERIAL AND EQUIPMENT NOTES

The National Hygienic Manufacturing Company, Builders' Exchange, this city, is putting out a water closet with a brass ground joint connection which, they claim absolutely prevents the escape of water or sewer gas. Its cost is said to be no greater than that of the ordinary variety. Builders who have used the National Hygienic Mfg. Co.'s closet say that it saves its cost in repairs in two years. F. T. Parker is President and Treasurer of the company.

The Steward and Romaine Company, of this city, is making a patent expansion, and steel toggle bolt, that is described as the finest thing of the kind in the market. This bolt has the endorsement of the U. S. engineers and is generally specified in municipal contracts.

The Metropolitan Supply Company, of 95-97 Liberty street, New York, a firm which specializes in blue print paper, carries in stock four grades of a tracing paper which is far more transparent than the cloth generally used and much cheaper in price. Tracing cloth, in the cheapest grades, costs about $17.00 per roll of twenty-four yards, thirty-six inches wide. Three dollars will buy nearly the same quantity of the tracing paper manufactured by this firm.

"Raydiant Sidewalk Lights" are the output of the Berger Manufacturing Company, of Canton, Ohio. Installed in the sidewalk these lights make the basement beneath habitable by letting in conserved daylight. They are easy to install, economical and efficient and require no centering. The Berger Company has a local office.

A metal shingle that is well worthy the attention of architects is the Montross Metal Shingle, manufactured by the Montross Metal Shingle Company, of Camden, N. J. These shingles, made of metal in many designs, are said to be fireproof, stormproof and wearproof. They require no solder and are easy to lay. The company claims for them the additional advantage that they are considerably lighter than either slate or tile.

The Pierce, Butler and Pierce Manufacturing Company, of Syracuse, N. Y., with local agencies in New York, Boston and this city, is introducing a sectional boiler, for low pressure steam and hot water heating, with features calculated to make for efficient and economical operation. Its peculiar design of section, separating and deflecting chamber, gas flues to improve combustion, extended fire chamber and surface, low height, and exceedingly large fire and clinker doors, are enumerated as attractive details.

For elevator and stairway shaft openings, and for exterior window exposures, it would be difficult to find a more adaptable mechanical contrivance than the Kinnear steel rolling door, and shutter. These doors present a neat appearance, are both fireproof and durable, and can be built to operate automatically if desired. They are manufactured by the Kinnear Manufacturing Company, of Columbus, Ohio. The house maintains branch offices in Boston, Chicago and this city.

Architects are invited to send for a copy of the "Barrett Specification," a brochure issued by the Barrett Manufacturing company, of this city and elsewhere, in the interest of up-to-date roofing. A "Barrett Specification" roof with a vitrified tile surface, is one of the features of the new Pennsy terminal building in New York City. The foundations of the terminal are waterproofed with the same material,—coal tar, pitch and felt.

Mr. H. F. Gurney, formerly of the Sprague Electric and Otis Electric Company, now at the head of the National Company, is keeping this sterling old concern right up to the top notch in the matter of elevator construction. National machines are now in service of the new Great Northern Hotel in New York City, and are replacing the once famous Sprague electric lifts in Boldt's Waldorf Astoria. Forty-eight of the Nationals were placed recently in the Chelsea Piers, the largest docks in the world, extending from Fourteenth street to Twenty-third along the Hudson River.

The firm of Felton, Sibley and Company, of this city, has long enjoyed a country-wide reputation for the uniform and sustained excellence of its products. As manufacturers of colors, paints and varnishes the firm stands in the very first rank. A recent specialty is the "F-S" combined wood filler and stain, highly regarded in the trade.

Mills Water Tube Boilers, and Princess Radiators, are in high favor with architects. The economy with which they can be operated, added to their known durability and efficiency, everywhere commends them. These products are manufactured by the H. B. Smith Company, this city. See advertising columns.

To mention glass is to think, with a certain inevitableness, of the name of Shoemaker. For skylight and floor glass, rolled cathedral in tints, embossed, enameled, colored, plain window and plate glass the Shoemaker concern of this city has long been a recognized leader.

HERE AND THERE.

About $750,000 is expended annually in educating people in the use of Portland cement.

The Philadelphia Team Owners' Protective Association regard the job of concrete paving laid on North Water street for the Girard Estate as the most perfect pavement from the angle of the team owner, in Philadelphia.

Announcement is made by the Cement Product Exhibition Company that Madison Square Garden has been leased from December 14 to 20, for an eastern cement show.

Concrete mausoleums on a community basis, are in process of erection at Cleveland, Detroit and Philadelphia. The Philadelphia mausoleum to be built at Fernwood will be finished in white marble.

Senator Edwin Vare, whose firm laid the wood block on Market street, is of the opinion that this style of paving is destined to grow in public favor. The nuisance in the Market street instance due to an excess of creosote can, Senator Vare says, easily be avoided or overcome in future work of the kind.

Harry F. Curtis, of the firm of Riter, Curtis and Hill, railroad contractors, who built a section on the new cut of the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad including a $2,000,000 concrete bridge at Paulin's Kill is a member of the Pennsylvania State Legislature.

Daniel J. McNichol, who is the active business head of the municipal contracting firm of D. J. McNichol and Bro., is an enthusiastic believer in the future of Atlantic City where he has a cottage and a host of friends.

John R. Wiggins, of the building firm of John R. Wiggins & Co., is an aide-de-camp on the staff of Governor Stuart, ranking as Lieutenant-General.

Phillip H. Johnson, the well known architect and engineer, is a convert to the delights of motor boating.

BRICK VS. CEMENT; AN AWAKENING.

"As compared with the best cement, I understand that the difference of cost between brick and cement is too trifling to be much considered. While as a fad, cement may have the advantage of novelty, for unquestionable substantiality and permanence, brick has the proof of history. While the best cement may last without giving trouble, brick buildings hundreds of years old attest the strength of your product.

"I think it has already been pointed out to you, how, if the makers of building brick of this country should assess themselves a penny per thousand brick of their output, the handsome sum of $60,000 per year could be raised—large enough to inaugurate an educational advertising campaign which would revolutionize the domestic building interests of the country by turning the thoughts of millions of magazine readers of the country brickwards."

Extract from an address by Robert Frothingham, of Everybody's Magazine, delivered at the convention of the clay brick interests at Pittsburg.

There is undoubtedly some merit in the argument here put forward in support of the necessity of an advertising campaign in the interest of the clay brick makers. Cement has made vast inroads within the past few years, inroads such as no student of construction could have foreseen a decade back. That much of this success has been due to intelligent advertising of the advantages of cement over brick construction there can be no question, and that the brick men have been indifferent to their own best interests in not pursuing an advertising campaign calculated to keep brick well before the building public is at least equally undeniable. Mr. Frothingham is, however, gravely in error in referring to cement construction as a fad. The fad stage of the cement business has been passed. While it is in the highest degree unlikely that cement will ever fully supersede brick as a constructive medium there is not the slightest reason to doubt that it has every element of permanency. Each material has its uses, each its own special adaptability. But, conceding this, there is every reason to believe that Mr. Frothingham is absolutely correct in his contention that the brick men have been lax, to say the least, in not giving to the material in which they deal a measure of publicity equal to that exerted in behalf of cement.

A first mortgage bond issue of $4,000,000, paying interest at 5 per cent. dated July 10, 1910, and expiring 1960, has been given by the Philadelphia and Western Railway Company to the Philadelphia Trust, Safe Deposit and Insurance Company.

The money obtained will be used to build an extension of the Philadelphia and Western's line from Strafford to Norristown. From Norristown a branch line to Lansdale or North Wales will be built connecting with the Lehigh Valley Transit Company.

E. B. Smith & Co. are the bankers who are backing this project, and they have purchased $2,000,000 worth of these bonds, which they will issue immediately. The entire mortgage covers all existing property owned by the railroad, and its road, equipment, power houses, right of way and the extension that is to be built to Norristown.

A number of property owners along the line of this proposed road object to its being built and will institute injunction proceedings against the company.

Those powerful financial interests which took from the Pearson syndicate a great holding of Lehigh Valley Railroad stock on July 27th, at $60 a share have now demonstrated that they knew what they were buying. Yesterday the stock came within a fraction of $82 per share, and since it crossed $80 per share, more than 20,000 shares have changed hands. The deal now shows a profit of more than 37 per cent. inside of three weeks.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS AND FIGURES IN CONNECTION WITH THE "PENNSY" TERMINAL

Statistics gathered in connection with the great new terminal of the Pennsy in New York City, present some interesting facts and figures. For example, about 500 buildings were removed to begin with to clear the terminal site. The total excavation necessary was 3,000,000 cubic yards. For the exterior wall, 490,000 cubic feet of pink Milford granite was used, all of which was taken from one quarry. Within the concourse, an additional 60,000 cubic feet of stone was used. 27,000 tons of steel and 15,000,000 bricks were employed. Six hundred and fifty columns support the station building. The maximum of weight on a single column is 1,658 tons. The concrete entering into retaining walls, foundations, street bridges and sub-structure was 160,000 cubic yards. The length of retaining wall is 7,800 feet. 1,402,700 barrels of cement were used, Portland and Rosendale. 258,000 cubic feet of concrete was used in flooring; 435,000 cubic feet in girder covering and hunches used on floor beams and bracket coverings; 23,000 cubic feet of gravel of broken stone concrete in the walls; 3,533 cubic feet of concrete in the stairways, and 162,333 cubic feet of gravel of broken stone concrete in the floor construction. The cinder concrete required amounted to 30,677 cubic feet making the total of gravel or broken stone concrete employed, 719,333 cubic feet, and the total of cinder concrete 247,000 cubic feet, a gross aggregate of 962,833 cubic feet. Ten electric and eleven hydraulic passenger elevators are in use and twenty-one hydraulic baggage lifts. Otis elevators were used. McKim, Mead & White were the architects. The George A. Fuller Company were the building contractors. The American Bridge Company supplied the structural steel. The Norcross Brothers Company supplied the pink Milford exterior granite. The Sayre & Fisher Company delivered the enameled brick, and the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company, the court brick. The Guastavino system of dome construction is used and the clock system is the work of the Self-winding Clock Company. Arthur Greenfield, Inc., supplied the metal lath for the plaster work. H. W. Miller, Inc., did the plastering, and the finishing lime, Tiger Brand, White Rock Finish, was furnished by the Kelly Island Lime and Transport Company. Star Expansion and Evans Crescent Expansion bolts were used.

As a finish to the floor in the kitchen, store rooms, baggage passageways and baggage rooms, crushed granite was used, supplied by the Monarch Mining Company. The marble work in the restaurant is the work of the Traitel Marble Company; the bronze and iron grills and screens, the artistry of the Tuttle & Bailey Manufacturing Co.; the furnishings by John Wanamaker, and the kalsomined work in the building the craftsman ship of A. J. Ellis, Inc. Several firms shared the painting and finishing.

The woodwork and kalsomined trim was painted by Peter McKay. Arnold & Locke did the color work in the arcade and concourse, and Joseph A. Reed did the wall and ceiling surfaces. Sherwin-Williams supplied varnishes for wood finishings. The Interstate Pneumatic Tube Company installed the tubing system and something like 1,767,964 square feet of waterproofing was done by the Sicilian Asphalt Paving Company.

In this work, the Tunaloid Waterproof Felt manufactured by the J. A. & W. Bird Company, was selected. The great terminal, covering four city blocks, is covered with a "Barrett Specification" roof, made by the Barrett Manufacturing Company, which company also supplied 3,600,000 pounds of pitch used as a binder between layers of felt in the waterproofing.

At this particular season of the year when suburban investment development has customarily been quiescent, it is of interest to note an awakened activity, contributory no doubt to the not altogether satisfactory Spring movement and an increasing confidence in general business conditions as evinced in other than the real estate world. With the quantities of "held up" projected work in the architect's offices, it is a relief to find a disposition to proceed with development for the growing late Fall market.

An example illustrating this is the new development conceived last season of the Prairie farm of Mr. William B. Bralten, at Lenni, on the P. W. & B. road, which has been surveyed and laid out into building lots. Situated on high ground on the hills above the towns of Lenni and Glen Riddle, with good train and in addition trolley service. Lenni Heights as the lot plan designates this ground, should bid fair to encourage greater improvements at nearby suburban points and is perhaps a reflection of the under current in favor of homes in the numerous towns on this branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

225 COMMONWEALTH BUILDING

At Lenni, the local demand for houses, irrespective of the commuter, has become so great, eight houses and two bungalows, all of reinforced concrete and designed to form the nucleus of a mission colony, have been planned by Architect Oliver Randolph Farry, 1723 Chestnut street, and will be distributed for estimates immediately. Nestling on the hills, midst green foliage and with all the latest improvements, these eight-room, white walled and red roofed structures, should occupy a unique place even in the history of Philadelphia, the city of homes, being the first colony designed of a set style of architecture throughout and with the feature of concrete construction. It is the intention to supply these homes with pure spring water, an independent water system having been planned.

As an amendment to the By-Laws of the Sheet Metal Workers' Association, in convention here, last week, it was resolved to change the name of the organization from Master Sheet Metal Workers to that of National Association of Sheet Metal Contractors of the United States. It was argued by the framers of the amendment that the old name had resulted in much confusion with the sheet metal worker's labor unions.

A new type of passenger station for smaller communities, all fireproof, has been adopted by the Lackawanna railroad, which is now building several of them. The structures are built of hollow terra cotta blocks with partitions of the same material, while the floors are granolithic and the roof of slate. The design is mission, with ornamental porte cochere at the rear. The engineering departments of several other lines are investigating the merits of the new type with a view to adopting it, especially since much station construction has been planned for the coming year, notably on the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

MATERIAL AND EQUIPMENT NOTES

Benjamin Fow & Sons, 223 North Second street, this city, manufacturers of heating specialties, forward a 1910 catalogue that is admirably arranged and full of interesting and handy information regarding the stock goods carried by this enterprising house, and the prices of same. This firm had one of the most striking exhibits at the Master Metal Workers' Convention, at Lu Lu Temple.

The Sterling Varnish Company, of Pittsburgh, is putting out some very effective advertising presenting the merits of Sterling Clear Iron Enamel, a steel protective coating material, that can be painted right over the markings. This enamel is transparent, permits the markings to be seen plainly through it, enables an inspection to determine the condition of the metal before it was painted and adheres strongly to the metal. The same company also manufactures Sterling Black Iron Enamel.

"The Contingent Fee System" is an arrangement that many contractors find not only highly attractive but exceedingly profitable. The Lehigh Engineering-Contracting Company, Real Estate Trust Building, this city, will be glad to explain the details of this profit-saving plan to parties interested.

Steel for concrete reinforcement is the specialty of the Franklin Steel Company, Franklin, Pa. Flats, rounds, squares and twisted are made by the company which enjoys an enviable standing in the trade for promptness in filling and shipping orders.

Engineers will find the "Blue Book," issued by the Pittsburgh Steel Products Company, Frick Building, Pittsburgh, a handbook just chuck full of valuable pointers on the subject of concrete reinforcement. The book covers exhaustively every engineering contingency connected with this class of work. This company manufactures what is known as "standardized reinforcement."

Waterproofing is frequently one of the most difficult problems encountered in various classes of building construction. The Barber Asphalt Paving Company, of this city, "largest producers of asphalt in the world," has a system of waterproofing by "the positive seal method" that is said to at once be effective and lasting. The company issues a booklet covering the subject which may be had free on request.

The Ransome Concrete Machinery Company, Dunellen, N. J., manufactures the Ransome Mixer, claimed to be the most satisfactory article of the kind in the market. A booklet, issued by the company, explanatory of the superior point of the Ransome Mixer is sent to persons interested.

The plant will be erected on the State road between Holmesburg avenue and Pennypack creek. The purpose is to purify the water in Pennypack creek, which empties into the Delaware river near the intake of the Torresdale filtration plant.

The Merchant & Evans Company, manufacturers of high grade roofing and bright tin plate, main offices, 517 Arch street, and works on Washington avenue, between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets, this city, issues a highly effective booklet under the title, "Not Equally as Good, but Positively Better." The text is a most attractively written argument in support of the Merchant method of coating the plate evenly and durably instead of the hand dipped or Welsh process which coats the plates thinly and imperfectly. The argument is a good one and the booklet, a decidedly clever bit of advertising.

N. & G. Taylor Company, manufacturers of tin plate, Cumberland, Maryland, and this city, issue a hard and fast guarantee of the fire resisting qualities of their plate, certifying over the firm signature that the tin plate furnished by them under the brand "N. & G. Taylor Co.'s Fire Protection Terne" conforms in all respects to the plate required by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Several of the trade journals are using also an illustrated lecture by Mr. H. N. Taylor, of this firm, on the advantages of well-laid and properly-coated tin plate over other materials used for roofing.

Two very attractive catalogues circulated at the same convention were issued by the Richardson & Boynton Company, 31 West Thirty-first street, New York, advertising "Perfect" heaters and ranges, Richardson boilers and "Calorific" heat producers.

One of the deftest and most striking pieces of advertising literature we have seen for a long time is issued by the International Heater Company, of Utica, N. Y. The cover presents a slide to first base, and the inscription "Come Inside and See the Game." The text is a well-written exposition of the superior points of the International Company's manufactures.

HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE

Recent new buildings roofed with the N. & G. Taylor Co.'s "Target and Arrow" Tin include the new Churchill Cafe, New York; the residence of the Hon. William Rick, Mayor of Reading, Pa., and the Hotel Washington, Chambersburg, Pa.

A chain of six theatres, under the direction of the great Northern Theatrical Company, incorporated recently, in Wilmington, Del., and, of which Felix Isman, the brilliant local operator, is the controlling spirit, will be erected here in the near future. One is to be located at Broad street and Erie avenue. Others are to invade Germantown, Frankford and West Philadelphia.

A committee of business men and a delegation of councilmen from Chester, Pa., were the guests of Vare Brothers, contractors, and Mr. Pardee, representing the United States Wood Preserving Company, in a tour of inspection of Market street's wood paving. The city of Chester recently appropriated $600,000, for the paving of Chester streets with this new material.

The Press is resorting to lines set wholly in caps in the effort to make it appear that the Rittersville State Hospital is a duplication of the State Capital job, but despite its best meant attempts establishes a pretty poor case. The standing of Philip H. Johnson, the architect, and Doyle & Company, formerly Doyle & Doak, is too firmly fixed to be injured by newspaper clamor. A careful reading of the Press "Expose" leaves one with the impression that somebody is trying hard to make capital out of magnified trifles.

Colonel John R. Wiggins, the well-known local builder, has been assigned by State Chairman Henry F. Walton to control of the speakers' bureau in the fall campaign. Colonel Wiggins is, himself, a fluent and forcible public speaker.

MASTER METAL WORKERS' CONVENTION CLOSES.

The National Association of Master Sheet Metal Workers closed its sixth annual convention, held at the Lu Lu Temple in this city, with a vote of thanks to Mayor Reyburn, Congressman Moore, and the local and trade press. In the opinion of the national officers, the convention was one of the most successful in the history of the association. The Manufacturers' Exhibit, held in connection with the convention, was a most attractive feature the exhibits being thoroughly representative and in many cases notable expressions of metal-working enterprise. These exhibitors were: The N. & G. Taylor Co., Philadelphia, tin roofing plate, most capably handled by Messrs. H. N. Taylor, William J. Hoffman, W. W. Hirst, F. A. Barrows, and W. N. Deere; Marchant & Evans Company; Philadelphia, tin roofing plate, David Lupton's Sons Company, Philadelphia; United States Stove Repair Company, Philadelphia; Wheeling Corrugating Company, Wheeling, W. Va.; United States Register Company, Battle Creek, Mich.; Ferdinand Dieckmann Company, Cincinnati, O.; Meurer Bros. Company, Brooklyn, New York; Stark Rolling Mill Company, Canton, O.; Abram Cox Stove Company, Philadelphia; Danzer Metal Works, Hagerstown, Md.; International Heater Company, Utica, N. Y.; L. D. Berger, Philadelphia; Haynes Langenberg Manufacturing Company, St. Louis, Mo.; Keasbey & Mattison Company, Ambler, Pa.; The J. M. & L. A. Osborn Company, Cleveland, O., in charge of Mr. L. A. Osborn, J. G. Henninger and Geo. M. Barr; American Rolling Mill Company, Middletown, O.; S. Bowen & Son, Philadelphia; Dreis & Krump Manufacturing Co., Chicago; Tubular Heating & Ventilating Co., Philadelphia; The Floyd-Well's Company, Royersford, Pa.; J. W. Yates, New York; Lyon-Conklin Company, Baltimore, Md.; Acme Manufacturing Company, Bangor, Me., in charge of Amory H. Davis; Thatcher Furnace Company, New York; The Hart & Cooley Company, New York; Calvert & Holway, Philadelphia.

In addition to the reading of papers of trade importance and the usual discussion of trade economics incidental to a session of the kind, there were two important moves made as a result of the convention just closed. One changes the month of holding these annual sessions from August to February, and the other alters the title of the associations to the National Association of Sheet Metal Contractors.

By the way, President Seabrook and Secretary Johns both deny the statements attributed to them by the local press, endorsing organized labor. While the association has no quarrel with the labor element it is as strongly favorable to an open shop as the labor forces are antagonistic to it.

Mr. E. S. Hand, who was for several years the installation engineer of the Mississippi Wire Glass Co., has acquired an interest in the Pennsylvania Wire Glass Company, which maintains executive offices in Philadelphia, and a branch office in New York City, where Mr. Hand will be in charge. Mr. Hand is an admitted authority on the subject of fire protection and is widely and favorably known to fire underwriters, architects, engineers and building contractors. Mr. Walter Cox, president of the company, is in charge of the executive office, in this city, with headquarters in the Pennsylvania Building.

The Glidden Varnish Company, 47 Fulton street, New York, manufacture a line of concrete finishes and waterproofings that enjoy, deservedly, a high favor in the trade. Concrete floor dressing, alkali proof sizing, waterproof flat finishes, waterproof white finish, French Caen stone finish, transparent waterproofing, liquid cement, liquid cement filler, acid proof coating, liquid rubber and liquid rubber cement are a few of this firm's well-known specialties. A positive guarantee is sent out with each of these products and a firm of well-known engineers engaged to supervise their application.

The Keasbey and Mattison Company, Ambler, Pa., manufacture the "Century" asbestos shingle, a practical reinforced concrete roofing in the form of shingle made of hydraulic cement, reinforced with interlacing asbestos fibers. The result is a roof that is not merely fire retardant, or slow-burning but a roof that is absolutely fireproof. These shingles expand and contract evenly, are laid like ordinary slate, are made in three colors; numerous shapes and sizes, and are as durable to the assaults of the weather as they are to fire. Write for booklet, "Fireproof 1910."

A CORRECTION

We want to correct one impression that appears to obtain in certain quarters concerning the Real Estate Record and Builders' Guide. The paper is not a real estate organ and its circulation, interests, and activities are not confined to Philadelphia. It is true that these conditions did exist to some extent under the old management. They do not exist under the present management. The Record and Guide of to-day aims to be helpful to and representative of every branch of structural enterprise. It aims to be as useful to the firm handling material and equipment as to the firm engaged in general contracting. Its interests extend wherever work of an important kind is being planned, engineered, or executed. These interests are bound by no lines, geographical or trade. Steel, brick, stone, concrete are of equal interest to us. Sanitary plumbing, heating, hygienic equipment are as much the province of the Record and Guide of to-day as steam shovels, or concrete mixers, or tin roofing, or architectural iron work. We are as ready to print items of interest about sewer and bridge work as we are about new apartment houses or churches or schools. And we shall be as pleased to say the appreciative and timely word for the house with headquarters in Kalamazoo as for the house here in Philadelphia. All of which is our own way of saying that the Record and Guide of today is not local, not parochial, nor narrow, nor cabined, nor confined in its interests. Our aim is to make the Record and Guide representative of the position Philadelphia occupies as a structural trade centre and worthy of its own status as the only paper catering to these interests in Pennsylvania. This does not mean that the Record and Guide is to be a local organ. No trade paper can be local and fully represent the interests for which it stands. We are for the best interests of the building and contracting, material and equipment trade in all of its ramifications.

SHEET COPPER AND ADVERTISING

A visitor to our offices, one day recently, dropped a remark that set us to doing some thinking. "One finds heaps of advertising in the trade press, these days," he said, "advocating the merit of tin, slate, metal-shingle, asphalt, slag, and other forms of roofing. Isn't it singular that no one ever has a word to say for copper, which admitting the extra expense, when properly laid, is the most durable of all roofing materials?"

Here is a thought worth while. What is the matter with the sheet copper interests? Is the demand so great that advertising is unnecessary or are these interests asleep to the possibilities of a well-directed advertising campaign? True, copper is expensive, but then hundreds of people build to whom expense is a minor consideration. What effort, if any, is being made by the sheet copper interests to reach these people? Only a few weeks back the brick men found it necessary to get together and organize a defensive advertising campaign against the inroads of the cement industry. Is history to repeat itself in the case of the copper men? Every architect knows the immense adaptability of sheet copper for many of the purposes for which other and better advertised materials are now used. Will the sheet copper men get busy and systematically advocate the claims of their product or continue to sleep peacefully while more enterprising interests "divide the melon?"

WORK TO PROCEED WITH IMMIGRATION STATION AT GLOUCESTER, N. J.

Advertising for bids for the new immigration station building to be erected at Gloucester, N. J., has begun and the structure will probably be completed within 10 months. The plans for the building have been rushed by the Government architects, and no time will be lost in erecting the structure.

Mr. J. Knox Taylor, supervising architect of the Treasury Department at Washington, is quoted as saying:

"We have just gotten through with the plans. We have put lots of hard work in on them, and I believe they will be entirely satisfactory. While I am not prepared to say what the building will be like, I am sure there will be no cause to complain of its design.

"The advertisements for bids are out, and I expect to receive all the bids that could possibly be desired. There will be a large choice from which to make a selection, I feel certain.

"While we will clinch the matter as speedily as we are able, it probably will be six weeks before the contract is awarded. Then it is more or less 'up to' the contractor. But we will push the work for all we are worth, and there will be no unnecessary delay."

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF CEMENT USERS.

The seventh annual convention of the National Association of Cement Users will be held in New York Dec. 12-23, 1910. The meeting will be held at the same time as the first annual New York Cement Show, which will be held in Madison Square Garden under the auspices of the Cement Products Exhibition Company, of Chicago. The cement users' association has secured the Concert Hall of Madison Square Garden for its meetings and those in attendance will therefore be in a position to profit by the Cement Show to the best advantage. The annual exhibition of the association will be combined with the Cement Show, as was the case at the Chicago convention last year. Efforts are now being made to secure reduced railroad rates.

SOLVE DRAINAGE PROBLEM

Huge Main Conduit for Atlantic City's Difficult Situation.

Atlantic City's drainage problem, a big engineering proposition by reason of the fact that reclaimed meadow land on the westerly side of the resort has been raised to a higher grade than the centre of the town, will be solved by the installation of a huge conduit to extend the entire length of Baltic avenue, with lateral connections on crosstown streets.

The pipe will be large enough to hold a horse and cart and its driver. The total cost is expected to be close to a million dollars. Council is about to approve specifications and call for bids.

GIRARD ESTATE OPERATIONS.

2000 Dwellings of Modern Type to Be Built on Girard Farm Land.

The intention of the Board of City Trusts to erect 2000 dwellings in the southern section of the city on the tract of land which was originally Stephen Girard's farm is expected to be the forerunner of a tremendous dwelling activity in the Twenty-sixth, Thirty-sixth and Thirty-ninth wards. This section embraces the area between the Delaware and Schuylkill River, commonly known as the Neck, which heretofore has been largely given up to truck farming and brick-yards. The Board of City Trusts, which has in charge the administration of the Girard estate, has been building these houses during the past three years, and it is the intention

MATERIAL AND EQUIPMENT NOTES

The Monarch Mining Company, 269 Culver avenue, Jersey City, offers to send to persons interested samples of the various sizes of crushed granite prepared by them with the prices on each grade. The fact that the material was specified by Architects McKim, Mead and White for the new Pennsylvania Railroad Terminal in New York instances its great usefulness as a binder and finish. The crushed granite made by this house, used as a stucco, is said to give the normally ugly cement finish a clean, white appearance that materially enhances its attractiveness.

Blanchite Tentative Paint, made by the Blanchite Paint Company, 130-143 Charles street, New York, is said to be a very effective preservative coating. For wet cement it is regarded as an almost perfect facing structure, being absolutely hygienic, thoroughly washable, non-porous and permanent. Architects and others interested are invited to write for descriptive literature.

To acquaint the trade with the variety of styles and designs of track and door hangers manufactured by them, the Lane Brothers Company, of Poughkeepsie, New York, is sending out neatly printed circulars and pamphlets, along with a very ingenious aluminum model showing exactly how these hangers work. The appliances turned out by this house are highly regarded in the trade and worthy the attention of men who believe in modern conveniences.

Mr. G. P. Blackiston has succeeded Mr. Wallace as advertising manager of the Berger Manufacturing Company, of Canton, Ohio. Mr. Blackiston is an admitted expert both in metallurgy and in the advertising field, and should prove a particularly valuable acquisition to the progressive concern with which he is now connected.

The Folsom Snow Guard Company, Winthrop Building, Boston, is prepared to furnish architects, and others interested, with detailed information regarding the devices manufactured by this firm. The new 1910 model is said to be the simplest and strongest snow guard in the market.

Taking over the interests of the Chelsea Marble Works, the Builders' Marble Works, of 516-528 East Twentieth street, New York, is about to engage extensively in the business of importers, sawyers, wholesale dealers and manufacturers of foreign and domestic marbles, mosaics, tiles and slate. Francis H. Smith is the president of the new company, Peter J. Conlon, vice president, and George P. Foote, secretary and treasurer.

Gimbel Brothers are the contractors for the furnishings of the new and palatial Great Northern Hotel in New York city.

The Golden Metal Weather Strip Company, 101 West 42d street, New York, is advertising an all-metal weather strip and window slide made in zinc and copper. The National City Bank, Alwyn Court, Masonic Temple, Brooklyn, and the Lotus Club have adopted this strip.

It is no longer necessary to go abroad to obtain enameled brick. The Sayre and Fisher Company, 261 Broadway, New York, is marketing an article of enamelled brick fully equal to the best imported. The company will be glad to furnish information regarding the scope and utility of its product to persons interested.

The Lincoln Manufacturing Company, 225 Fifth avenue, New York, are the owners of a process for transforming and fireproofing wood. This process not only converts birch into Circassian walnut and oak into mahogany, but does the work with a thoroughness calculated to deceive even an expert, and with a durability that defies years of wear. William A. Hall, inventor of the process, is an authority in his line and a pioneer in this particular field.

A recent contract closed by the American Bridge Company, of Pittsburg, calls for 10,000 tons of structural material to be used in the construction of the Canadian Pacific railroad bridge over the St. Lawrence River. The work involved in the contract is being done at the Ambridge, Pa., plant of the company. Other orders, booked by the same firm, includes bridge work for local railroads to the extent of 5000 tons.

The receiver for the Central Foundry Company has paid $50,000 receiver's certificates. This payment was made out of receiver's earnings, and has not increased liabilities nor decreased assets. The receiver was authorized to borrow $200,000, but the $50,000 certificates were all that had been issued. Officials say that business has greatly improved since February, when the receiver was appointed.

After a delay of nearly a month, during which time the contractors were disputing over their "rights," the contracts have been awarded for the construction of the sewage disposal plant to be erected in Holmsburg. The bids were on the unit basis, which enabled the department of public works to divide up the work.

The division was as follows: Costello & Co. received the contract to build the pumping station and operating house, the prices being $16,200 and $61,356, respectively. Edwin H. Vare was awarded the contract for the intercepting sewer from Frankford avenue to Pennsypack creek, the price being $43,000. The Keystone State Construction Company will supply the pumps and other machinery, at a cost of $17,350. James P. McNichol is interested in the Keystone Company. The Millard Construction Company, which is also a McNichol concern, was a bidder for the powerhouse and operating building, but failed to get any part of the work.

Meurer Brothers, Brooklyn, N. Y., are sending out a leaflet made in the form of a box of tin roofing plate advertising this firm's well-known specialties. Meurer's Tinned Iron Sheets, "the only plates on a base of pure charcoal iron made in Wales;" metal Spanish tile, metal mission tile, Unique shingles and the Anchor ventilator.

The Haynes Langenberg Manufacturing Company, St. Louis, Mo., displayed a fine catalogue, at the Metal Workers' Convention, directing attention to the merits of the steel furnaces made by this firm. Special space is given to emphasizing the excellent points of the "Front Rank" steel furnace, combination warm air and hot water heaters, and gas burners.

"The story of an 'Inland' Galvanized Sheet" issued by the Inland Steel Company, First National Bank Building, Chicago, is the most interesting story of sheet steel-making ever printed. It tells the whole story of the making of a galvanized sheet from the ore to the spelter pot, and is richly illustrated. Users of galvanized sheet metal will be amply repaid for sending for a copy of this exceedingly entertaining booklet.

The Battle Creek Roofing and Manufacturing Company, of Battle Creek, Michigan, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000.

John T. Clark, of Lincoln, Mass., is president of the newly organized Lower Ventilator Company, incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000.

The Midvale Steel Company has decided to erect a completely equipped hospital on the grounds of the plant, at Nicetown. The new building will be placed at the Wissahickon avenue entrance to the works, will be two stories in height and has been made necessary by reason of the frequency with which accidents occur at this big plant.

The Saginaw Sheet Metal Works, Saginaw, Michigan, is about to erect a new factory, 150 x 270 feet.

A new factory for the manufacture of roofing material is in process of construction at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for the Leo Hofmeister Company.

The American Steel & Wire Company has absorbed the De Kalb Fence Company, De Kalb, Ill.

The Follansbee Tin Plate Plant, Follansbee, W. Va., which has been shut down for some time for repairs and overhauling, is now running full time.

Among the many advantages enumerated in favor of the cast stone manufactured by the Onondaga Litholite Company of Syracuse, New York, are: That it is made by the wet process and uniform throughout; is so dense that an absorption of less than 5% is guaranteed; is made without waterproofing compounds or chemicals; retains its color; improves with age; is durable and lasting as stone; is made in a variety of colors from pure white to all the natural stone tints; conforms accurately to architectural detail and design; being reinforced with steel can be made in monolithic sizes to support the heaviest loads and lastly but not least among its good points costs from 15 to 50% less than cut stone. The Watson Engineering Company, Builders' Exchange, this city, are the Philadelphia representatives of the Onondaga Company.

In a notice published in the issue of August 10th commenting on the blue print and tracing papers manufactured by the Metropolitan Supply Company, 97 Liberty street, New York, an error of the types occurred. Tracing cloth in the cheapest grades costs about $7.00 per roll of twenty-five yards, not $17.00, as we were made to say. Nearly the same quantity of the tracing paper made by the Metropolitan Company can be bought for three dollars.

This firm makes a specialty of Prepared Blue Print Paper at a very low rate, and guarantee it to be as good as any that is on the market to-day, if not better.

C. F. Bachler, Specialist in Steam and Hot Water Heating, who was for 21 years at 53 North Seventh street, this city, is now at 27 South Eighteenth street, where he is splendidly equipped to serve old and new patrons.

Mr. Bachler is the Vice-president of the Monitor Steam Generator Manufacturing Company of Landisville, a concern that makes one of the best all around steam generators in the market.

The Vitrolite Company, Parkersburg, West Virginia, now has a local office at 212 Lippincott Building in charge of Vincent A. Clarke, the company's Philadelphia representative. This company manufactures the product known as "Vitrolite," a milk white glass that for a great many uses is said to be "Better than marble." It has a natural finish that is highly attractive, is not susceptible to acids, antiseptic solutions or alkalis, can be drilled with comparative ease, and is guaranteed not to craze. For structural purposes such as wainscoting, laboratory fittings, bathroom and kitchen tiling and table tops, it is without an equal. The Vitrolite people produce it in slabs, varying to a length of ten feet and a width of four feet. More than 70,000 square feet of this material is to be installed in the Jenkins Building, of Pittsburg, under a contract just signed.

HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE

The Keystone State Construction Company of this city, in which Senator James P. McNichol is said to be interested, has about nine hundred men, with steam shovels, scrapers, rollers and derricks, at work on Hillview Reservoir, New York. Five years is allowed the company in which to complete the work. After 250,000 cubic yards of top soil has been removed there will be 2,900,000 cubic yards of excavation. Then there will be a million and a quarter cubic yards of special impervious embankment and a million and a half cubic yards of reinforcing embankment. The reservoir is to be about 3000 feet long and 1500 feet wide, divided into two basins, with the earth embankment lined with concrete, rubble and riprap. The amount of cement which the engineers calculate will be required is 215,000 barrels. There will be over 150,000 cubic yards of concrete in the lining of the reservoir, the walls and the chambers.

D. H. Burnham & Company, the Chicago architects, have nearly completed the plans for the new Washington Post Office, and expect to invite proposals early in September. The appropriation for the construction is $3,000,000. The building is to front on Massachusetts avenue, adjoining on the west the Union Station, also designed by Burnham & Company, and erected by the Thompson-Starrett concern. The new post office will be built of granite and will harmonize architecturally with the Union Depot.

The New York, Westchester & Boston Railroad invites bids for the construction of five new stations along its line. The New York office of the company is at 63 Beaver street.

It is said that the Sharon Steel Hoop Company, of Sharon, Pa., is considering erecting a new mill at Sharon to cost about $150,000. Bollinger Bros., of Pittsburg, have been awarded a contract to erect a new brewery at South Sharon to cost $145,000.

The Department of Docks and Ferries, of New York City, Calvin Tompkins, Commissioner, is reported to be preparing plans for the construction of a 1000 foot dry dock in Brooklyn.
